Chinese American Medical Society (CAMS) is a non-profit, charitable, educational, and scientific organization committed to education and community service. Established in 1964, it is now one of the largest and most successful national Chinese American medical societies in North America with regional chapters in Albany and Boston and over 1000 members. The officers and the trustees of the governing board are made of leading physicians in the New York metropolitan area who volunteer their services. Membership is open to all physicians, dentists, medical and dental students, medical scientists of Chinese decent, as well as other allied medical professionals who have been dedicated to serving the Chinese American community.

The mission of CAMS is to improve the health status of Chinese Americans and to promote excellence in health care for all through mobilization of health care professionals. The purpose & objectives of CAMS are:

1. To eliminate health disparities of Chinese American & other underserved populations.
2. To advance medical knowledge through education, scientific research, scholarship, and philanthropy with emphasis on aspects unique to Chinese Americans.
3. To promote the association of and to advocate for medical professionals of Chinese descent and others devoted to like purposes.
